Processing Information

Collections are processed to a variety of levels, depending on the work necessary to make them usable, their perceived research value, the availability of staff, competing priorities, and whether or not further accruals are expected. The library attempts to provide a basic level of preservation and access for all collections, and does more extensive processing of higher priority collections as time and resources permit.

This collection received a basic level of processing, including rehousing and minimal organization.

Information included in the Description of Papers note and Collection Contents section is drawn from information supplied with the collection and from an initial survey of the contents. Folder titles appearing in the contents list below are often based on those provided by the creator or previous custodian. Titles have not been verified against the contents of the folders in all cases. Otherwise, folder titles are supplied by staff during initial processing.

This finding aid may be updated periodically to account for new acquisitions to the collection and/or revisions in arrangement and description.

Separated Materials

Printed material received with the collection was removed for separate cataloging and can be accessed by searching the library's online catalog.

Norman Weissman (1925–2021)

Norman Weissman was an American writer, director, and producer of over 400 documentary and educational films and television specials. After graduating from Dartmouth College in 1948, Weissman began creating films for government agencies, including the United States Information Agency, the Navy, Air Force, and Department of Labor, as well as corporations such as Pfizer, Georgia Pacific, IBM, and Shell Oil, and non-profit groups like the National Heart Association and the Cerebral Palsy Foundation. Weissman directed his first film, An Adventure in Friendship, in 1949. His other films include Here to There (1965), which was shown during the 1965 New York World's Fair, Impulse '90 (1969), It Happened in Holland (1970), and Everybody Knows (1958), for which he wrote the story and screenplay. Weissman's 1953 film The School of the Ozarks was created for dissemination by the United States Information Agency to Europe during the Cold War. Weissman's honors include three American Film Festival Awards, a CHRIS

Award, and an Academy Award nomination. In addition to his career in film and television production, Weissman authored six books, including the memoir My Exuberant Voyage (2009).

Content Description

The collection contains correspondence, writings, research materials, photographs, printed material, and computer and audiovisual media by or relating to writer and director Norman Weissman. Correspondence consists of personal and professional letters exchanged between Weissman and other writers and educators such as Louis Paul Bénézet and Richard L. Ottinger, as well as third party correspondence between Weissman's family members. Writings contain notes, research materials, proposals, and drafts of Weissman's books, play scripts, and screenplays. Much of Weissman's work focuses on the prevention of terrorism, the Kent State shootings, and the Vietnam War.

Arrangement

Organized into five series: I. Correspondence, 1942–1949. II. Writings and Research Material, 1948–2014. III. Photographs, circa 1945–2009. IV. Printed Material, 1943–2014. V. Computer and Audiovisual Media, undated.
