Processing Information

Collections are processed to a variety of levels, depending on the work necessary to make them usable, their perceived research value, the availability of staff, competing priorities, and whether or not further accruals are expected. The library attempts to provide a basic level of preservation and access for all collections, and does more extensive processing of higher priority collections as time and resources permit.

This finding aid was produced chiefly from a list provided by the dealer.

Clifton Ewing Hickok (1880-1954)

Major Clifton Ewing Hickok (1880-1954) was a civil engineer and city manager of Alameda, California. He was born in St. Joseph, Missouri. He earned a Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering from the University of California in 1908. In April 1912, he married visual artist Adelaide Valentine Cutler Hickok (1887-1987). They had a daughter, Beverly Hickok (born 1919). He worked as a civil engineer for several firms. From 1917 to 1921, he served as the city engineer for Alameda, California, except for years he served as an engineer with the United States Army during World War I, 1918-1919. In 1921, he became city manager of Alameda, California. He also served as the assistant Public Works Administrator of California during the Great Depression. In 1937, Hickok and his family moved to Berkeley, California.
