Gerald Robert Vizenor Papers. Yale Collection of American Literature, Beinecke Rare Book and Manuscript Library.

Processing Information

Collections are processed to a variety of levels, depending on the work necessary to make them usable, their perceived research value, the availability of staff, and competing priorities. The library attempts to provide a basic level of preservation and access for all collections as they are acquired, and does more extensive processing of higher priority collections as time and resources permit.

This collection received a basic level of processing, including rehousing and in some instances minimal organization, at or around the time of receipt by the library. Further description was carried out in 2011. Various acquisitions associated with the collection have not been merged and organized as a whole. Each acquisition is described separately in the contents list below, titled according to month and year of acquisition.

As a rule, descriptive information found in the Collection Contents section is drawn in large part from information supplied with the collection and from an initial survey of the contents. Folder titles appearing in the contents list below are often based on those provided by the creator or previous custodian. Titles have not been verified against the contents of the folders in all cases. Otherwise, folder titles are supplied by staff during initial processing.

This collection includes material formerly classed as: Uncat MSS 71, Uncat MSS 701, and Uncat MSS 1029.

This finding aid may be updated periodically to account for new acquisitions to the collection and/or revisions in arrangement and description.

Gerald Robert Vizenor (1934-)

Gerald Robert Vizenor is a Native American author, poet, and teacher. His works of prose comprise both fiction and nonfiction, and include The People Named the Chippewa: Narrative Histories (1984), Bearheart: The Heirship Chronicles (1990; originally published as Darkness in Saint Louis Bearheart in 1978), The Heirs of Columbus (1991), Manifest Manners: Postindian Warriors of Survivance (1994), Blue Ravens (2014), Treaty Shirts: October 2034, A Familiar Treatise on the White Earth Nation (2016), Native Tributes (2018), Native Provenance: The Betrayal of Cultural Curiosity (2019), and Satie on the Seine: Letters to the Heirs of the Fur Trade (2020), among others. Vizenor is the founder and editor of the American Indian Literature and Critical Studies series at the University of Oklahoma Press.

Vizenor was born in 1934, and is an enrolled member of the Minnesota Chippewa Tribe, White Earth Reservation. He graduated from the University of Minnesota in 1960, and is Professor of American Studies at the University of New Mexico, and Professor Emeritus at the University of California, Berkeley.

Scope and Contents

The collection consists of writings, correspondence, research and teaching material, photographs, printed material, audiovisual material, computer disks, and other papers, documenting the literary and academic career of Gerald Robert Vizenor and relating to many of his published works on Native American literature, history, and culture.

Included are drafts, notes, legal and financial records, and ephemera for Interior Landscapes, Blue Ravens, Treaty Shirts, Native Tributes, Native Provenance, and Satie on the Seine; Vizenor's research and writings related to the murder conviction of Thomas James White Hawk; and articles he contributed to the Minneapolis Tribune. The collection also contains papers and photographs documenting Vizenor's early life and family, including images of the White Earth Reservation; several photographs of children at residential schools in Minnesota and Nebraska; photographs of Indigenous activists, artists, writers, and students; and materials related to the Constitution of the White Earth Nation, of which Vizenor was a principal author.

Arrangement

Organized into six groupings: August 2000 Acquisition; August 2004 Acquisition; May 2008 Acquisition; October 2012 Acquisition; September 2015 Acquisition; October 2019 Acquisition.

Material within this collection has been organized by acquisition reflecting the fact that the collection has been acquired in increments over time.

Researchers should note that material within each acquisition overlaps with and/or relates to material found in other acquisitions. For instance, correspondence and writings can be found in all three groupings. In order to locate all relevant material within this collection, researchers will need to consult each acquisition described in the Collection Contents section.

Researchers should also note that similar material can be arranged differently in each acquisition, depending on how the material was organized when it was received by the library.

Collection Contents

August 2000 acquisition, 1880–2000, bulk 1960–2000

69.86 linear feet (99 boxes) + 1 cold storage, 2 broadside

This acquisition contains files for the Community of Writers. The Community of Writers previously used the oppressive and harmful term "squaw" in its name, based on its location in what was formerly known as "Squaw Valley," California, now called Olympic Valley. This language has been retained due to its use at the time the materials were created, and to promote searchability and discoverability of the collections. The use of this name is not an endorsement of the language it contains.

b. 44, [REDACTED] 39002102349579	Native American Novelists: Gerald Vizenor YCALMSS539_0009 1 Videocassette (VHS) 00:48:59 Duration (HH:MM:SS.mmm)	1995
	A biography on Gerald Vizenor is included on the back of the tape. It reads: His life, like his work, was a long time taking root in a place and a culture. Drawing on his Ojibwa heritage, the bitter effects of his father's murder when he was himself still a baby, his intermittent formal education, and his need to reconcile the tribal past with the political present, Vizenor has, poem by poem, story by story, and novel by novel constructed an impressive oeuvre that marks him as among the most prolific and most intellectually challenging writers of the Native American renaissance.

	Leonard 2nd copy A handwritten note, dated 1995-10-20, is included with the tape and reads: Hi Jerry, Thanks for the kind message you left about the book. It means a lot to me that you think it's good. And thanks for the copy of "The Writer's Notebook". You know you've made it when people want your bar napkins! I'm sending this tape one of my students made last spring. It's supposed to be a version of your story "The Red Coin". It's odd but you will probably get a kick out of it just the same. All is well here I go home for my Mom's tests next Wednesday. Send good healing energies. Just talked to Gordy and wondered when the three of us might even be in the same place. That would be "good fun" as my mom says. Anyway just wanted to let you know I'm thinking of you. Hi to Laura + Amy. Best, Kim Oh, I almost forgot: HAPPY BIRTHDAY!!

Photographs
0.42 linear feet (1 box) circa 1900-2016

This series contains early photographs of Vizenor, family members, and the White Earth Reservation, including an unnamed boarding school; photographs of Vizenor when he was stationed in Japan with the army; and photographs taken while Vizenor was teaching at Bemidji State University, University of California, Santa Cruz, and University of California, Berkeley. Photographs also depict events and conferences, Vizenor's wife Laura Hall, friends, and colleagues such as literary critic Karl Kroeber and poet Luci Tapahonso (Navajo). Other photographs document a protest against the Bureau of Indian Affairs in Minneapolis in 1966; an Indigenous student protest at Bemidji State University in 1972; and American Indian Movement activists in the 1960s, among them Clyde Bellecourt, Harold Goodsky, and George Mitchell. Other Ojibwe writers and artists present in this series include poet Kimberly M. Blaeser, painter Patrick DesJarlait, and William Lawrence, founder of Ojibwe News.

Arranged chronologically, with undated materials filed at the end of the sequence.
