Preferred Citation

Yale University Master of Fine Arts Theses in Photography, Robert B. Haas Family Arts Library, Yale University.

Biographical / Historical

Originally part of the Graphic Design graduate program, Photography became an independent MFA program in the early 1970s. This two-year course of study provides instruction in black-and-white and color photography as well as nonsilver processes and digital image production. The program is committed to a broad definition of photography as a lens-based medium open to a variety of expressive means.

Scope and Contents

The collection consists of over 300 individual Master of Fine Arts theses from 1971 to the present. The theses are most often in the format of a portfolio of photographic prints, though some theses are also in book form. Individual records for the MFA theses are also available in the library catalog.

Arrangement

Arranged chronologically by year of completion/graduation and then alphabetically by student's last name within each year.
