Processing Information

Yale University records are arranged and described at the accession level by the creating office. The University Archives creates collection level descriptive records, but typically does no further arrangement and description at the accession level.

Biographical / Historical

The Office of the Provost was created by vote of the Yale Corporation in 1919. The establishment of the office was part of a general University reorganization plan that was submitted to the Corporation by the Committee on Educational Policy. By the term of Provost Edgar S. Furniss (1937-1958), the office had evolved to essentially its present-day function. The provost is the chief academic officer of the University, responsible for administering all of the internal operations of the University concerned with education and research.

J. Lloyd Suttle, Deputy Provost for Academic Resources, has been a member of the Yale community for 43 years. He has held his current position since 2001, and previously served as Associate Provost, Adviser to the President, Dean of Administrative and Student Affairs in Yale College, Director of the Office of Institutional Research, and Lecturer in the Yale School of Management. He is author and co-editor of Improving Life at Work: Behavioral Science Approaches to Institutional Change. His present duties include oversight of Yale College, the Graduate School, the Department of History, the Council of Masters, the University Library, the Department of Athletics, and Information Technology Services. Mr. Suttle is a member of the Yale College Class of 1969 (Ezra Stiles) and received his M.Phil. and Ph.D. degrees from Yale.

Scope and Contents

The records consist of correspondence, memoranda, subject and administrative files, minutes, and financial reports documenting the activities of the University Library, Information Technology Services, Department of History, and the Ivy Policy Committee, maintained by J. Lloyd Suttle as deputy provost for academic resources.

Note

Forms part of the Yale Record Group 3-B (YRG 3-B), Records of the Yale deputy, associate, and assistant provosts.

Arrangement

The records are arranged by topic.
